Welcome to CRAVE — the Project Morningstar Newsletter

Thanks for being here. CRAVE is our once-a-month update from the team as we continue to expand the MORNINGSTAR universe.

Whether you're brand new or already following along, you'll get:

- Progress updates on what we're building next
- Announcements (releases, live streams)
- Discount codes and subscriber-only offers
- Lore Developments

Two things that help the most:

Stay subscribed so you don't miss drops and discount codes.

Join our Discord to talk lore, see behind-the-scenes, and catch updates between issues.

The ExeCor is a spherical region of space that is between thirty and fifty light years in diameter and represents the heart of the Hegemon. The major star systems are listed here but there are minor star systems that are subsidiary to them just as there is a band of 'developing' systems that were once the 'Midworlds.'

Membership to the ExeCor comes with it many advantages, especially financial. Gatewells, stable conduits that act like highways, connect the systems of the ExeCor through the Outside while the logistical and technical accomplishments of the MacroCorps work together to rapidly develop these premier partner governments. New tradelanes are established and access to unique resources and technologies are made available to upper credit holders who now have direct access to Protea and The Market itself.

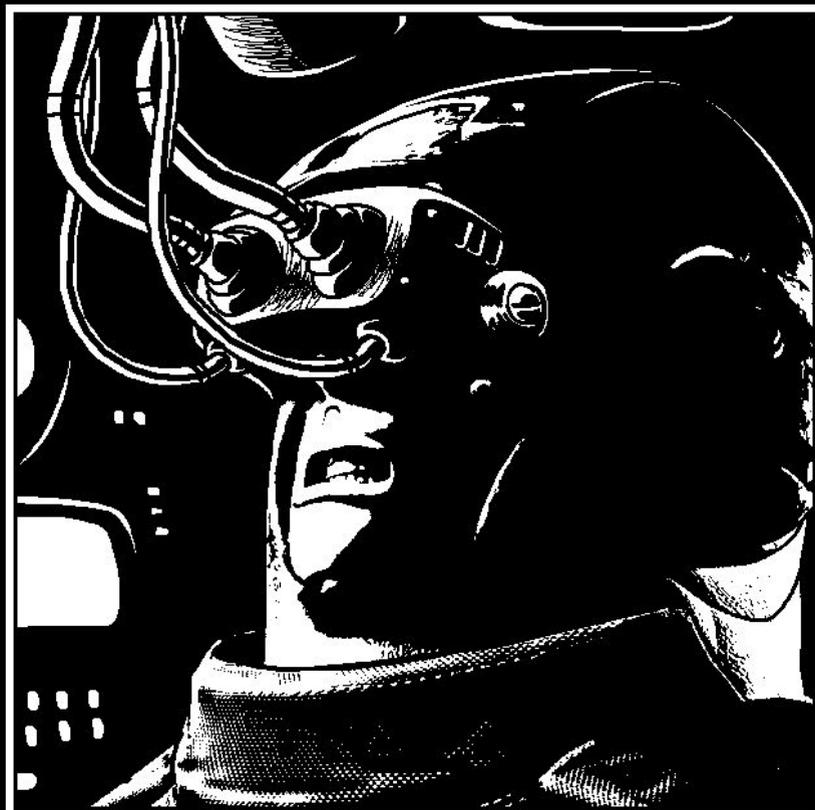

Our new stellar-cartographer "Blazbros" will be expanding on a much needed resource: maps. Expect to see his work in many of our upcoming articles and lore!

RevShare Summit

The RevShare Summit happens once a year and the next one is December 29, 2025! Right around the corner.

This is where the team shares what we've been building, what's coming next, and a bunch of behind-the-scenes elements that we don't post anywhere else. This is our second RevShare, and this year we're hosting it on YouTube. Watch our community posts as we count down to the date.

A note to our Patreon supporters: we'll also run a follow-up Ask Me Anything that's open to every Patreon tier where you'll be able to ask a panel of the creators various questions

RPG NEWS

We're happy to inform that next year we will be moving forward with our very own unique RPG!

We're calling it Avarice, based in Modipheus' 2d20 system. Avarice sets players as Contractors, Skiptracers and Mercenaries seeking to make a living in the Morningstar Universe by doing the dirty work for the Commission, Magnates and the Hegemon.

KC Rift on our Discord represents Fat Goblin Games, he's been playtesting with volunteers as of late with good results.

Be sure to come to the RevShare stream to hear more about the plan for 2026!

New Sculpts Incoming!

We're ecstatic to inform you that we are developing more of our miniature range with ThatEvilOne an accomplished miniature sculptor. You'll have seen his work with the Tributaries and AMUs. We're happy to inform that he will be developing a new range of Barakan Elite showcasing the heavy weapons from The Hunt as well as new gear in an expanded range!

A word from RebelPhantum

As we bring 2025 to a close, it helps to look back on our progress over the year to see how far we have come, to appreciate the hard work and dedication that has been offered to this amazing project, and to understand the journey that has gotten us to this point!

Our organization, much like our desires, have grown rapidly since the start of 2025. We have added over 15 impressively talented people to our team, effectively doubling our size to around 30 members! From animators to artists, from community outreach to miniature printing, our collective skillset has grown as talented individuals continue to show both belief and support for our endeavours!

On the subject of content, we have also made great strides in what we offer: In addition to completing Part 3 of our ongoing animation "The Hunt", we have also produced much-anticipated miniatures of our Barakan, Shigue, and most recently Tributary forces for your painting pleasure, or even substitution in wargames (for now, as we work towards our own system). For those who prefer to make their own, we even sell the STL files through MyMiniFactory to make our models even more accessible!

While our miniatures are a very popular commodity, we understand that Avarice can take many different forms; That's why we have also set up our own merchandise shop thanks to our friends over at Fourthwall, where we sell various items from flags, patches, and clothes, to more unique items like christmas ornaments and stickers, and of course my personal favorite: the Barakan Battle Mug!

We have been working tirelessly to increase the variety, quality, and consistency of content to both entertain you, and expand our influence over the last year. It's our ultimate goal to be a household name, our own Trust Brand uttered in the same sentence as Battletech, Warhammer, Bladerunner, and even Star Wars! It is thanks to the wonderful support of our entire community, whether it be financially through our ever growing roster of Patrons, to our talented fans who create such amazing works that help to boost our morale, to you- our mailing list, who helps to spread the word of morningstar far and wide, and who desire even more from us- your Avarice for our content is admirable, and as we strive to reach our lofty heights, we know it is only attainable due to the dedication, the attention, and the support of all of you- we cannot thank you enough for your dedication.
